

Intelligent physical stock management for growing e-retail business

If managing your stock is getting more complex as your business grows then you need a warehouse management system (WMS). And you need ProSKU.

- > Know exactly how much stock you have
- > Know where stock is kept, at single item and location level
- > Be ahead of future demand by controlling re-order levels
- > Have total confidence in your pick and despatch accuracy
- > Integrate warehouse control with ordering and purchase operations

ProSKU – a WMS for smaller business

If you're using paper records or spreadsheets, or getting by with a stock control package to run your warehouse, but struggling to control things as you grow ... then you need ProSKU.

Most businesses over a certain size that store and handle goods will benefit from using the ProSKU warehouse management system. Unlike a stock control system ProSKU manages physical stock and space expertly, and makes handling processes slick and efficient. And with full API access ProSKU integrates with order capture and purchase functions for an end-to-end business solution.

ProSKU is a new product from proven WMS provider Chess - a unique system created specifically for small but growing Internet retail businesses. It provides complete control of physical stock, manages warehouse handling processes and utilises barcode scanning for accurate verification. Its strengths are affordability by monthly subscription, speed of deployment and simplicity of use.

It's by no means a basic product, but instead one that provides true WMS functionality in compact, accessible form. It can be set-up and used in just a few days, avoiding major implementation cost. And as a cloud-based application it can be used from anywhere via PC, tablet or mobile.
